SEPTEMBER 28, 2007

ROTARY CLUB OF SOUTHWEST EUREKA

Queen Mary opened the meeting with a ding-dong. Dick Giraud paid $20 to hear Bob Burchit say the pledge. John Ennis prayed for us. Troy indicated all was sunny except for his head from the previous nights martini sampling with Mary Lou and Cindy. Sounds like we will be having black oatmeal cookie martinis on Oct 11.

Kelly Hemmert introduced the visiting Rotarians as well as the guests.

Marty Lay introduced our newest member, Monty Nickerson and Nyle Henderson gave a wonderfully heartfelt charge that was long but well worth it. The gist of it, Monty, is that we work very hard to make things better. Couldn't be more on point nor come from a better person.

At this point, chaos broke out and in the mayhem, Deb Giraud grabbed the mike and offered up the opportunity to participate in interviews for our outbound exchange student for next year. Contact Deborah if interested.

Then, Cindy Sutcliff went looking for Hosts for the Humboldt Rape Crisis Centers fundraiser next month. Contact Cindy if interested.

Haider promoted the next ROAR which is to be held at Gabriel's on Oct 15 at noon. Due to his preferential treatment by the president this ROAR will count as a makeup. Contact Haider to sign up. I little Patrushka told the writer that Steve Hagenbaugh was upset with Haider due to his lack of recognition for taking photos during the Tour of Trinidad. Haider attempted to right this to no avail because the club was not paying attention. Sorry Steve.

Cindy Sutcliff won (I guess that's what you call it) MSG. Can anyone explain how this works? Any way, Cindy spun the wheel and ended up paying $5 per kid or $25 or something. Writer couldn't hear due to the mayhem.

Kelly Hemmert also won but lost as she answered some question about the only Beatles song that most of us have ever heard of, A hard days night, and pulled a silver marble.

Jeff Smoller was caught showing his brain in the paper. Pretty much life size when he was the whole front page. Cost him $50 and he boosted the Martini tasting and post boogy at the Blue Room Swing dance event on Oct 11. Contact Jeff for more.

Ken Davlin spoke of his daughters, one builds prisons (learned how at Gottschalk's) and the other acts in scary movies. I think it cost him but couldn't hear do to the mayhem. Look for Ken's actress daughter on Lotto commercials coming soon.

Ron Harris spent a few days in Las Vegas shopping for mini storage supplies and discussing his conversations about the moon in Hawaii with Chuck Smith. For that he tapped out and got the perfume. Somehow it sounds worse each time I write it.

By now the mayhem had come to grips with Mary's self promotion of Gottschalk's and Howard fined her $20.

Our program was the GSE team from our district who had traveled to Guadalajara Mexico to study and exchange as a group. Their concentration was focused on Health care, Agriculture and Social Sciences. What beautiful hospitals they have in Mexico and it sounds like organics is thriving there unless you're a mango orchard, in which Golf wins. I could have sworn I saw Jay and Deano in the back of the Tequila distillery photos.

Great program and seems appropriate that if you want to be a GSE member you need to work for Terry Clark.

Queen Mary wished us all a wonderful weekend and wanted everyone to remember that we meet at the Elks Lodge next week. Friday, 5 October at noon.
